

Macroeconomic Context

The increased demand for raw materials, especially energy, has been highlighted and marked the dynamics of international markets.

The price of crude oil amounts to USD75/barrel, which represents an increase of approximately 86% compared to the previous year.

The survey of restrictions on the movement of people and goods in countries with a high level of coverage, with regard to vaccination of their population against COVID-19, supports the trend.

Inflation

May's inflation rate stood at 2.03%, in monthly terms, and 24.94%, in year-on-year terms.

The inflation target for the year was updated from 18.5% to 19.5%.

Monetary Policy and Market

In May, the BNA decided to keep the reference rates unchanged, except for the coefficient of mandatory reserves in foreign currency, which increased from 17% to 22%, without the obligation to partially comply in national currency;

The monetary Base in national currency contracted by 8.08% from April to May, which represented the biggest monthly reduction in liquidity since January 2020.

Capital Market

The Treasury issued a cumulative total of AOA 552.05 billion in Treasury Bonds (OT) in the first 5 months of 2021, equivalent to 1/3 of the total forecast for the year. The OT rates did not change in relation to April, except for the 2-year OT, which decreased from 24.50% to 24.13%.

Foreign Exchange Market

The kwanza showed a slight appreciation in May. The exchange rate ranged from USD/AOA 645.05 in April to USD/AOA 642.00 in May. Against the euro, the trend was reversed, with the exchange rate evolving from EUR/AOA 779.29 to EUR/AOA 782.50.

Investment Objective

The Fund will seek to provide its participants with an investment with low volatility and a level of potential return that is stable and above the alternatives offered by traditional banking applications, through the majority investment in money market securities and term deposits with a residual maturity of less than 12 months.

Risk

Synthetic Indicator of Risk and Compensation

Investor Profile

Being low risk, the Fund is suitable for clients with a conservative risk profile who are looking for a higher return than the traditional term deposit, and with greater flexibility to mobilize resources, since it is an open fund and with a structure of highly liquid Fund assets.

Evolution of the Value of Shares (AKZ)

The published returns represent past data and do not constitute a guarantee of future returns. The disclosed returns would only be obtained if the investment was made and maintained throughout the reference period. For the purpose of calculating profitability, subscription, redemption and transfer fees, when applicable, are not taken into account, being net of all other fees and charges. The Synthetic Indicator of Risk and Compensation measures the risk of price variation of the Fund's units, based on the volatility verified in the last 5 years and classifies the risk level of the Fund between 1 (minimum risk) and 6 (maximum risk). A lower risk potentially implies a lower remuneration, and a higher risk potentially implies a higher remuneration. Investment in funds may imply the loss of invested capital if the fund is not guaranteed capital. Benchmark - the criteria used are the average rate on time deposits up to 90 days and between 90 and 181 days (effective rate, net of tax - IAC), available for consultation at the National Bank of Angola. The TxR YTD (Year to Date) is the rate of return (annualized) calculated from the first day of the annual calendar until the moment to which it refers; the TxR 12M is the Fund's rate of return over the past 12 months (exempt from taxation, as defined in the UCI Tax Regime).
